We will cover with the following concepts

- 1) Why documentation is important ?
- 2) apiDoc

API documentations are essential

A Typical Api documentation contains -

- Instructions on how to perform authentication and authorization
- How to use and integrate various APIs
- Information about input and output of the APIs with samples.

API Documentation make your Dev 5x faster, At Least !

- Frontend developers find it easy to collaborate with backend teams and among themselves.
- Saves time and money of support, especially in APIs which are supposed to be public facing.
- Saves time while debugging problems as both input and output is very well defined.
- Opens up your work to new possibilities !

Creating API documentation is easy

Let's do the same in our application
